PREVENT FIRES IN HOME

Number of Simple Rules That If Followed Would Practically Eliminate All Fires in Homes.

Fires in the home are easier to prevent than to extinguish. Practically every fire originating in a dwelling house is due to carelessness or neglect.

The attic, cellar, and all clothes closets should be cleaned at least once a year and all useless material and rubbish removed and burned.

In storing clothing, remove all matches and other material from the pockets. Do not hang clothes near hot chimneys.

Do not go into clothes closets with lighted matches or candles.

Use only safety matches and keep them away from the children.

Never throw burned matches on the floor or into waste baskets.

Do not use inflammable shades on lamps, candles or electric light bulbs.

Coal oil lamps should always be filled by daylight. They should be kept clean and properly trimmed. A dirty lamp is unsafe.

Especially care should be taken in the home to prevent fires from starting, because when they do start there is seldom a man about to extinguish them. Where women and children are housed, the utmost vigilance is necessary on the part of those responsible for their welfare.

A fuse is the "safety valve" of an electric system, and should never be replaced by one of larger size or of any other material.

Do not allow paper or rubbish to accumulate behind steam coils or radiators.

Gas stoves should never be connected up with rubber tubing. Gas pipes, rigid and secure, is the only safe connection.

Rags and cloths saturated with cleaning and polishing oils may ignite spontaneously in a few hours. Burn them at once.

Be careful of ashes. Do not deposit them against wooden buildings or fences. See that there are no live coals. Far better to pour a pail of water over them than to take the risk of a strong wind carrying live coals and starting fires.

Never allow little children to carry lamps, and never set lamps on a table cover. Children may pull them over.

SCHOOL EXITS.

The best means of escape in case of fire for a school building where most of the pupils are small children is, in my opinion, a horizontal escape through an opening in a fire wall bisecting the building, the opening properly protected on both sides by self-closing fireproof doors. There should preferably be on one side of the opening a sliding door held back on a fusible link, and on the other side a self-closing swinging door. This means of escape is the most efficient not only for a school building, but also for any other kind of a building. If a vertical escape must be provided instead of a horizontal escape, a Philadelphia fire tower is best. If this cannot be provided an interior enclosed stairway is next best. Outside from balcony fire escapes are subject to serious objections.—J. D. Hammitt.

UNSAFE FLUES.

Statistics show that at least 26 per cent of the fires in this State are caused by defective chimneys and flues. Of course all of these fires could have been prevented and should have been prevented, if the parties building the chimneys and flues had followed our building laws governing these matters, especially in regard to lining these chimneys and flues with fire clay lining. There is no question in my mind as to the advisability of lining chimneys and flues with fire clay lining.

In our state we are requiring this now in our State building law, and practically all of the trouble is coming from chimneys and flues built prior to the enactment of this law or where it is not fully enforced.—James R. Young, Insurance Commissioner.

FEDERAL PENSIONS IN SOUTH. The federal pensions disbursed to soldiers, widows and dependents during the year ending July 1, 1915, was $165,518,266. It is nearly seven million dollars less than the year before. So reads a recent report of the federal pension commissioner, says the University News Letter.

The number of federal pensioners living in the southern states and the sums they received last year may be interesting to our readers.

In "The White Squaw," which will be the attraction at the Hub theatre, Friday, December 3, the author, D. M. Clarke, is said to have written a play that is so human that one feels at home with its characters, notwithstanding the fact that the story is laid in the Michigan woods in 1820. NORTHAMPTON STARTS SCHOOL INSPECTION

Raleigh, Nov. 27.—Medical school inspection work starts in Northampton county Monday, November 29, with Dr. A. C. Bulla of Asheboro the physician in charge. Northampton is the second county to put in operation this combined system of health and educational work which is only in keeping with this county's progressive pace in other matters of vital importance to her people's welfare.

Reports from the first week's work in medical school inspection in Alamance county indicate splendid cooperation on the part of the schools and people and unforeseen success.

The Health Day programs were found to be well prepared, and the exercises met with the greatest interest from both school and community. Dr. T. M. Jordan, medical school inspector of Alamance, reports good work from every school yet visited.

FORD TAKEN HOME

Newton, Nov. 27.—Reuben Ford, the worst hurt of the six Lincolnton young people whose machine turned over Thursday evening south of Newton, was carried home later in the night, his father having moved here for him. Medical attention was given him at the residence of Dr. J. A. Young, who brought the injured man to town. The others being less hurt, went on to Lincolnton as a car came for them. The scene of the smash-up is a bad place for motorists and others have had trouble there.

IN BUDAPEST

Interned Prisoners Have Jolly Good Time

(By Associated Press.) Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 27.—Interned civilians in many parts of Hungary are treated as well as to justify the recent statement that their internment is little more than formal. Most of the foreigners who remained in Hungary after the first month or two of war were of long standing in their communities and are not even regarded as in any way a menace to the welfare of the community. Although actually forced to live in formally assigned internment camps, the trusted aliens are given leave whenever they have good reasons to assign. For example, recently the entire population (only 24)—on an internment camp near Budapest, were given a week's leave to attend the races at Vienna. The Hlap tells why they were compelled to return before their leave was up:

"A party of visiting neutral journalists was being shown the capital a few days ago, and they asked if it would be possible for them to visit one of the Hungarian internment camps. Application was made to the Minister of the Interior, and he immediately designated the camp at Alag, a village near the capital where twenty-four enemy aliens are interned."

"Two days before the date fixed for the visit the official in charge of internment camps rang up his Alag subordinate in order to advise him that visitors were coming and that he should put the colony in order. The following conversation followed:

"See that everything is in order at your camp, as a dozen neutral newspaper men are coming to inspect your prisoners."

"When are they coming?" "Tuesday at noon."

"But that's impossible." "Why?"

"Because the prisoners are not at home."

"Where are they?" "They went to Vienna to the horse races."

"Well then, the newspaper men will have to put up with those who remain," suggested the Budapest official. "Yes, indeed," came the reply, "but none of them are at home. They even took their women folks with them. You see one cannot very well give permission to four or five and ignore the rest. I had to let all of them go."

"The Budapest official scratched his head a minute and then ordered telegrams sent to the prisoners in Vienna asking them to return at once, with his apologies for disturbing their holiday."

THANKSGIVING AT HOUCK'S SCHOOL

Miss Kittie Flowers, gave an interesting and attractive exercise at the Houck school house Thursday afternoon.

The school room was decorated with fruits, pumpkins, potatoes, peas, beans, cabbage, corn, fodder, canes, and a variety of other things having the appearance of a county fair. All these things were brought by the children and are the things for which they say they are thankful.

The children sang several Thanksgiving songs, recited, read compositions and played interesting games, after which Mr. P. M. Self, one of the committeemen, made a short talk. Quite a number of the parents were present and all enjoyed the occasion very much, this being the first Thanksgiving celebrated at this place.

CONFERENCE AT NEWTON

Newton, Nov. 27.—The business of the Blue Ridge-Atlantic conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is being transacted rapidly under the direction of Bishop T. S. Henderson of Chattanooga, and it is understood today that the appointments may be read out by Sunday instead of Monday morning. The bishop will preach Sunday morning, and efforts are being made to have him fill the pulpit of the Methodist church, South, Sunday evening. In the electoral meeting the laymen named E. R. Randall of Asheville as delegate to the general conference. About 150 delegates are attending.

Visiting preachers will fill a number of local pulpits Sunday morning and evening.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years'

Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
